UNIT HISTORY 417TH MEDICAL COMPANY (AMBULANCE) (SEPARATE)

1. The 417th Medical Company (Amb)(Sep) was allotted to the Regular Army on 1 October 1933, as Company "F", 30th Medical Regiment. While serving as Company "F", 30th Medical Regiment, the Unit was assigned to the Ninth Corps Area and to the Seventh Corps Area. On 23 July 1942, Company "F" was activated as Armored at Camp Barkley, Texas where it remained until September 1943.

2. Company "F", 30th Medical Regiment was redesignated the 417th Collecting Company on 8 September 1943 and moved to the Louisiana Maneuver Area. The 417th Collecting Company was involved in extensive training during their stay in Louisiana from 1 September 1943 until 27 April 1944. On 20 February 1944, while still in the Louisiana Maneuver Area, the 417th Collecting Company was redesignated the 417th Ambulance Company, Motor.

3. The 417th Ambulance Company, Motor returned to Camp Barkley, Texas on 18 April 1944 in preparation for movement to an overseas station. The Unit departed Camp Barkley on 9 July 1944 for the Boston Port of Embarkation and arrived at the Staging Area, Camp Myles Standish, Mass. on 11 July 1944.

4. The 417th Ambulance Company, Motor departed the Boston Port of Embarkation on 19 July 1944 aboard the "West Point" and arrived in England on 26 July 1944. The Unit left England on 16 August 1944 and joined the European Theater of Operations. From 19 August 1944 until 27 December 1944 the Unit participated in the Northern France campaign. During January and February 1945 the 417th Ambulance Company, Motor served in Luxembourg, Belgium, Holland and Germany. On 25 April 1945, while serving in Germany, the 417th Ambulance Company, Motor was redesignated the 417th Motor Ambulance Company and served under this designation until 4 February 1946 when the Unit was inactivated.

5. The 417th Motor Ambulance remained in an inactive status until 9 February 1955 when it was activated and redesignated the 417th Medical Company (Amb)(Sep) to replace the 926th Medical Company (Amb)(Sep) which returned to National Guard Status.

6. The 417th Medical Company (Amb)(Sep) is now attached to the 36th Medical Battalion (Sep) located at Grailheim, Germany.
